i blame literature all those f cking lovely writers who made me want to be a writer toby literature a writer s diary is a year in the life of a man called toby litt day by day toby offers intimate details about his family and well being insights into creative writing and other fascinating reflections ranging from the immediate surroundings of his desk and study out into the world and on to infinite possibility as the year unfolds an increasingly urgent narrative starts to build a writer s diary becomes a compulsive page turner full of stories and characters we have grown to love and full of questions we need answered w ill toby litt find the perfect pencil sharpener will everyone he loves make it through the year and will he be the same person at the end of it blending fact and fiction invention and memoir with joyful creativity and remarkable ambition a writer s diary is a year in a life and a life in a year

let loose in a hothouse of subterfuge and well kept secrets the reader is invited to step through a maze of unreliable narration misjudged expectations and duplicitous accomplices to arrive after many twists and turns at what is going on at victoria about s suffolk literary hideaway meet elliot elliot is hugely intelligent he s an incredible observer he has a beautiful and unusual imagination to know him is to adore him but elliot is also stuck he lives in an orphanage in 1979 he spends his days in a wheelchair in an empty corridor or wherever the catholic sisters who run the ward have decided to park him so when jim blind and mute but also headstrong arrives on the ward and begins to defy the sisters restrictive rules elliot finally sees a chance for escape together they could achieve a magnificent freedom if only for a few hours but how can elliot unable to move or speak clearly communicate all this to jim how can he even get jim to know he exists patience is a remarkable story of love and friendship courage and adventure it is also about finding joy in the most unlikely of settings elliot and jim are going to have fun kumiko saw it first a heart a human heart slithering down outside the window of a train travelling between london bridge and blackfriars someone must have thrown it out from a carriage in front kumiko is determined to find out who and why but skelton was sitting next to kumiko on the train and he saw it too so he also wants to get to the bottom of the mystery or he says he does but really he just wants kumiko back because she s walked out on him just like that and left him heartbroken each for their own reasons kumiko and skelton set out separately on a bizarre trail of discovery darting between dingy student pubs the roofs of borough market and the corridors and car parks of guy s hospital they become embroiled in the seedy world of young medical students until eventually the gossip and the stories lead them both to the hospital s infamous dissection lecturer known behind his back as king death the end of the world doesn t come with a bang or a whimper but with the chukka chukka of a helicopter coming into land welcome to hospital hospital is about blue murder and saving lives having sex and surgery falling in love and falling from a great height crazy voodoo and hypnotic surveillance it s about the last days and the first days and the rubber nurse knows you ve been very naughty and is going to teach you a well deserved lesson it s the story of a lost boy wandering the corridors of a strange antiseptic building looking and hoping for a chance to get home and also of a man who won t wake up despite the best efforts of the hospital staff and while he sleeps a threatening darkness settles over everything as editors toby litt and ali smith explain in their introduction newness is quite a venerable category there s not much that s new about it in the 1930s when a magazine called new writing was first published it had to compete with new signatures new country new verse the new statesman and nation and new theatre and what with the new woman of the 1890s and new everything else even then new wasn t the new new if we ve achieved diversity it s because our submissions were themselves diverse and the final selection is representative of the proportion of short stories to novel extracts poems and essays that were submitted originality is only proven over time paradoxically we are confident that some of the names here you ve never heard before will become very familiar they may even disgrace themselves by winning prizes becoming established etc but they ll be the kinds of writer like the known names published here for whom everything they write is a renewal of language of place of the senses and of the contemporary toby litt s father wanted him to find about their ancestor william litt a champion cumberland wrestler william was one of the greatest ever kings of the green a man who reigned undefeated in one of the nineteenth century s most popular sports taking home over 200 prize belts william had other talents as well he was almost certainly a smuggler and definitely published poet and novelist but toby knew that coming to terms with him would be hard a huge and fascinating man william was also troubling he ended his life in poverty and exile and as well as having to measure himself up against this apparent paragon of masculinity toby would have to uncover uncomfortable memories and hard truths would toby like what he found out about himself along the way as a novelist as a son and as a father in turn would he have to get in the wrestling ring would he even want to using the nineteenth century as a guide wrestliana asks vital questions about modern day masculinity competition and success it is a beautiful portrait of two men and their different worlds full of surprises and sympathy and a wonderful evocation of a lost place and time humankind has taken a fateful journey into space a vast generation ship hurtles away from a violent troubled earth to settle a distant planet orbiting an alien star those who set out on this journey are long since dead those who will arrive at their destination have yet to be born for those who must live and die in the cold emptiness between the stars there is only the claustrophobic permanence of non being life lived in unending stasis then the unthinkable happens two souls august and celeste rebel and from the fruit of their rebellion comes a new and powerful force which will take charge of the ship s destiny journey into space is science fiction at its most classic and beguiling timeless vast in scope and daring in execution one of the most inventive and original writers around sunday mirror litt is equally adept at building tension and coming up with a haunting phrase perhaps most impressive of all though is the richness of his imagination he doesn't quail at taking big risks and possesses the talent to bring them off daily telegraph

a collection of stories from toby litt threatening even more twists and turns sex and violence and glitz and glamour than in previous works the text stars polly morphous lee perverse and the audioguide to the museum of inside your head and this time it's personal in the year 2000 two young editors nicholas blincoe and matt thorne published all hail the new puritans an anthology of short stories which created an impact in the somewhat faded literary scene of britain at the turn of the millennium the stories themselves written by 15 young english writers scarlett thomas alex garland ben richards nicholas blincoe candida clark daren king geoff dyer matt thorne anna davis bo fowler matthew branton simon lewis tony white toby litt and rebecca ray together with the editors manifesto offered a new and stimulating approach to fiction although the whole project had an outrageous reception by the literary establishment for the first time a collection of essays addresses the importance of the new puritan movement and provides guidelines to understand this generation of writers edwin paine and charles roland have a lot in common they're both english schoolboys who love a good detective story and they've been known to dabble in mystery solving themselves they're also both dead a condition which has proven to be less of a hindrance than one might think from the pages of the sandman neil gaiman's intrepid dead schoolboys head back to the horror that is st. hilarion's school the place where they both were murdered this volume collects toby litt and mark buckingham's dead boy detectives 1-12 as well as well as the short stories run ragged from witching hour 1 ghosts 1 and time warp 1 toby litt is best known for his hip lit fiction which in its sharing of characters and themes across numerous stories and novels has always taken an unusual hybrid form in mutants he applies his restless creativity to nonfiction the book brings together twenty-six essays on a range of diverse topics including writers and writing and the technological world that informs and underpins it each essay is marked by litt's distinct voice heedless of formal conventions and driven by a curiosity and a determination to give even the shortest piece enough conceptual heft to make it come alive taken as a whole these pieces unexpectedly cohere into a manifesto of sorts for a weirder wilder more willful fiction praise for toby litt a genuinely individual talent with a positive relish for dealing with the contemporary aspects of the modern world scotsman toby litt is awfully good he gives something new every time he writes muriel spark he has invented a fresh contemporary style it will sing in the ears of this generation malcolm bradbury toby litt is one of that rare breed of fiction writers who never writes the same book twice every time out he takes an unexpected new tack and his readers happily follow told in the form of the pithy even lyrical advice a young soldier leaves behind after a mission gone wrong notes for a young gentleman is no exception its brilliantly creative form and the epigrammatic genius litt displays in its creation nonetheless can't hide the powerful emotional story at its heart of a young soldier parachuting toward a beautiful moonlit country house on a mission of betrayal the house marlborough the target winston churchill an old friend of his father a brilliant at times dizzying but always heartfelt exploration of love revenge and the essence of a gentleman notes for a young gentleman is classic toby litt wholly new and wholly unforgettable when agatha and paddy decide to leave london and buy a house on the coast they are full of hope for themselves and their growing family baby max and a new child on the way three months later when the builders move out and they move in things look very different a personal tragedy threatens to destroy all they have carefully built up and only a small miracle it seems will save them ghost story is a book both haunted and haunting which asks how we can ever mourn something that hasn't lived emotionally resonant beautifully crafted and ultimately redemptive it will take you to the heart of suffering and desire everything toby litt touches turns to gold this book is about the interaction between literary studies and the philosophy of literature it features essays from internationally renowned and emerging philosophers and literary scholars challenging readers to join them in taking seriously the notion of interdisciplinary study and forging forward in new and exciting directions of thought it identifies that literary studies and the philosophy of literature address similar issues what is literature what is its value why do i care about characters what is the role of the author in understanding a literary work what is fiction as opposed to non fiction yet genuine interdisciplinary interaction remains scarce this collection seeks to overcome current obstacles and seek out new paths for exploration
